

Greetings from Heathrow Scientific:

Just a short note to advise you that our business operations are unaffected by the Illinois Shelter at Home Order. This is because Heathrow is designated as an essential business operation under the State guidelines issued by the Governor's Office. Therefore, we will continue to pick, pack and ship your orders as usual.

We have moved all office personnel to work remotely, which we expect to result in the same service excellence you are used to receiving from Heathrow. So far, so good on that score. If you are experiencing service issues, I would like to hear from you directly.

We also wanted to extend our wishes to you, our Valued Channel Partners and Customers to stay healthy during this stressful time. We are pleased to report that none of our Team or their families have been affected. And, our aim is to keep it that way in the weeks and months ahead.

All our best,
